 - Save Costs for Your China Customers & Increase Sales
 - Maintain Competitiveness in Challenging Economic Climate without Hurting Bottomline
 - Head-start over your Competitors (build in adequate lead time for customs application, documentary preparation and shipment readiness)
- + ACT NOW! Once you miss the boat, you may
 - Forfeit potential savings in customs duties (note: there is no retrospective claiming of duties forgone in earlier shipments)
 - Be caught off-guard when your China customers request you to apply for a Preferential Certificate of Origin
 - Lose precious leadtime to get your China shipments eligible for benefits when the agreement kicks into effect in Jan 09

The China-Singapore Free Trade Agreement (CSFTA) was signed on 23 Oct 2008 and will be effective on 1 Jan 2009. Singapore is the first Southeast Asian country to have this preferential trading arrangement with China. The CSFTA complements the existing ASEAN-China Free Trade Agreement (ACFTA) to expand the scope of customs duty savings, services and investment liberalizations, and business travel flexibility between both countries. If you are a manufacturer, exporter, importer, trader, service supplier, investor or frequent business traveler, do not miss this opportunity to discover the benefits in store for you and what you must do and prepare under the free trade agreement to tap on burgeoning China-Singapore economic opportunities!
